A Latin Grammar

For Schools and Colleges. By GEORGE M. LANE, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor Emeritus of Latin in Harvard University. Crown 8vo. (Nearly Ready.)

Professor Lane was engaged for many years upon the preparation of the Latin Grammar about to be published, and while he did not complete it in all its details, the manuscript was practically finished before his death. The peculiar merits of the work are comprehensiveness, precision of statement, accuracy in details, perfect clearness, combined with the utmost condensation, and a wealth and aptness of illustration unrivalled by any predecessor.

Harper's Scientific Memoirs.

Memoirs by Gay-Lussac, Joule, and Joule and Thomson on the Free Expansion of Gases. Edited by JOSEPH S. AMES, Ph.D. (Nearly Ready.)

Fraunhofer's Papers on Prismatic and Diffraction Spectra. Edited by JOSEPH S. AMES, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Physics, Johns Hopkins University. (In Press.)

These are the first two volumes of a series of translations and reprints of various scientific memoirs which are not readily accessible to the general student. The papers to be included will be selected from those which are most important in the history of science, or which have important bearing upon the present state of science. They will embrace articles from the fields of Physics, Astronomy, Chemistry, and probably other sciences.

Elements of Literary Criticism.

By CHARLES F. JOHNSON, Professor of English Literature in Trinity College, Hartford; Author of "English Words." 16mo, Cloth, 80 cents; by mail, 88 cents.

"Johnson's 'Elements of Literary Criticism' is more than a good book; it is an extremely good one. The author is at home with his subject. . . . His insight is keen, his statement lucid, his examples apt, his critical scheme at once simple and profound. The suggestiveness of his treatment is very stimulating. I shall certainly use the book in connection with our course in Literary Criticism."—JAMES R. TRUAX, Professor of English Literature, Union University.

Introductory Course in Mechanical Drawing.

By JOHN C. TRACY, C.E., Instructor in the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University; with Chapter on Perspective by E. H. LOCKWOOD, M.E. With Illustrations, including Reproductions of Photographs of Models. Oblong 4to, Cloth, $1.80; by mail, $2.00.

"It is the best, most common-sense treatise of the many which I have seen, and corresponds more closely with my experience in office and school work than any other."—RALPH W. ALLEN, Instructor in Mechanical Drawing and Design, Boys' High School, Brooklyn.

Latin Literature of the Empire.

Selected and Edited, with Revised Texts and with Brief Introductions, by ALFRED GUDEMAN, Associate Professor of Classical Philology, University of Pennsylvania. Post 8vo. In Two Volumes, Vol. I., PROSE, Nearly Ready; Vol. II., POETRY, In Press.

These two volumes are designed to fill a gap recognized by classical teachers. The selections have been made with a primary view to their æsthetic interest and intrinsic value, and, owing to their length and continuity, are calculated to give an adequate conception of the genius of the respective authors.

Phillips and Strong's Trigonometry.

Elements of Plane and Spherical Trigonometry. By ANDREW W. PHILLIPS, Professor in Yale University, and WENDELL M. STRONG, Tutor in Yale University. (Nearly Ready.)

Phillips and Fisher's Geometry, immediately upon its publication, took leading rank among text-books of the science. Phillips and Strong's Trigonometry, it is believed, will be received with equal favor. The qualities which distinguish the "Geometry"—mathematical soundness, lucidity and helpfulness—will commend the "Trigonometry" to mathematical teachers.

Rolfe's Shakespeare. New Paper Edition.

The Works of Shakespeare. Edited by WILLIAM J. ROLFE, Litt. D. In Forty Volumes. Illustrated. New Paper Covered Edition, at Reduced Price, 36 cents per volume, about ready. (Cloth, 56 cents per volume.)

A Manual of Experiments in Physics.

Laboratory Instruction for College Classes. By JOSEPH S. AMES, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Physics in Johns Hopkins University, Author of "Theory of Physics," and WILLIAM J. A. BLISS, Associate in Physics in Johns Hopkins University. 8vo, Cloth, $1.80; by mail, $1.95.

"It is written with that clearness and precision which are characteristic of its authors. I am confident that the book will be of great service to teachers and students in the physical laboratory."—HARRY C. JONES, Ph.D., Instructor in Physical Chemistry, Johns Hopkins University.

Paradise Lost: Its Structure and Meaning.

The Poem, with Copious Notes by JOHN A. HINES, Professor of English, Pennsylvania College. Post 8vo, Cloth, $1.20; by mail, $1.32.

This edition omits the usual grammatical and philological comment, as well as citations from authors who could not have contributed to the form or substance of the poem. "The Structure and Meaning" are chiefly considered, and the origin of the plan as a whole and of many of the constituent scenes is traced.

THE

AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE FOR 1898.

[PUBLISHERS' PRICES.]

NOTICE.—In this Catalogue only prices made by publishers themselves are given—retail, if retail, in first column; "net" (wholesale), if "net," in second column; where a "mailing" percent age is specified by the publisher, the "mailing price" is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk (), in addition to the wholesale price. When price-columns are left blank, the publisher failed, on application, to furnish price. A double asterisk () in price-columns designates books forthcoming. New books, issued since the publication of the Catalogue of 1897, are designated by a single asterisk () before title.

☞ In comparing prices or ordering at retail, private buyers should bear in mind that a percentage must be added to prices quoted at wholesale, to cover freight, handling, delivering, etc. Discounts on quantities vary on different lines, according to the kind of prices adopted by the respective publishers.

For subject classification (and for collective references to classic authors entered here under separate editors), see the second part of the Catalogue, following this main alphabet.

READING.

Parables for School and Home. By WENDELL P. GARRISON. With 21 Wood-cuts by Gustav Kruell. 12mo, cloth, 228 pages, $1.25.

"This is a book of unusual excellence. Mr. Garrison's object is to present to young readers the cardinal principles of a manly, upright life, in a series of familiar essays. He skilfully avoids the 'good-goody' tone of most moralists, who dress up the virtues so as to make them odious to healthy children. Each essay has one or more anecdotes, which ought to teach the moral the writer wishes to convey. Thus, in the course of the book, the child makes the acquaintance of a good many historical personages, he has his curiosity aroused on many elementary matters in art and science, and, above all, he has his reason constantly appealed to. Such a book ought to have a wide reading, for it cannot fail to make a deep impression for good."—Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

"Nothing has reached me that has given me more pleasure or a higher appreciation of what can be done in the way of well put and interesting exercises for school life."—AARON GOVE, Supt. of Schools, Denver, Col.

A Public School Reciter. By BERTHA M. SKEAT, Ph.D. (Zürich), late Lecturer at Newnham College and the Cambridge Teachers' College, Second Mistress at the County Girls' School, Llandovery. Crown 8vo, 179 pages, $0.90.

The order in which the specimens are arranged may not at first sight be very apparent, but it is intended to be that of emotional gradation, beginning with the simpler and more humorous subjects, and proceeding gradually to a more complex interpretation of character, involving the elements of tragedy. At the same time the poetic language and imagery, the general familiarity or remoteness of ideas, have all to be taken into consideration.

ENGLISH.

"It is a very clear, sound, and sensible outline of what is perhaps the most central subject of rhetoric: the getting of a nucleus thought, and getting it started toward a systematic presentation."—JOHN F. GENUNG, Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.

CHOICE LITERATURE. 5 Books. By Prof. SHERMAN WILLIAMS, Supt. of Schools, Glens Falls, N. Y. Ready June 25th.

This Series is intended to create and foster a taste for good reading.

To teach a child to read and not to teach him what to read, is to put into his hands a dangerous weapon.

There are five books in this Series:—

One for Primary Grades,
Two for Intermediate Grades,
Two for Grammar Grades.

The series will contain over 1,400 12mo pages of choice reading matter, each volume bound in full cloth. The best English and American authors will be fully represented.

The price for the full Series is $1 75.

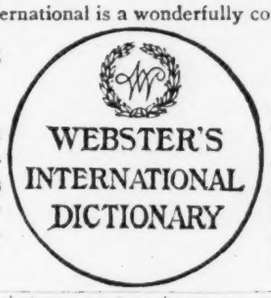
Quality Rather Than Quantity.

Pres. Eliot of Harvard, says: "The International is a wonderfully compact storehouse of accurate information."

The International is Scientific and Practical.

Words are easily found. Pronunciation is easily ascertained. Meanings are easily learned. The growth of words is easily traced, and excellence of quality rather than superfluity of quantity characterizes its every department.



It is the School-Teacher of the Republic.

The International and its abridgments are in general use in the colleges and public and private schools of the country. Should you not give the students access to the same Dictionary in the home that they use in the schoolroom?
